

Free Write - Animal town

Here is animal town.

Questions to think about!

How many different animals can you see in the picture? What are they?

The orang-utan is the sheriff (sort of like a policeman) to keep law and order. What jobs do you think would suit the other animals? Why?

If you could be any animal, what would it be and why?

Choose a task to accompany the picture. You could:

Continue the story using the story start next to the picture.

Write a diary entry of your day from the point of view of one of the animals.

Explain which animal you would like to be and why.

Research an animal of your choice and produce a fact file or poster or choose a task of your own.

Please share your work using portfolios. We love seeing your work.
